Our Mission:

Our mission is to provide a supportive and judgement-free platform for the parents/loved ones of children with autism. We believe every parent knows what is best for their child. This is a place to talk about challenges, discuss questions about treatments/therapies, and meet other parents who understand our daily struggles. This is a place to share our joys, and our children's accomplishments, no matter how big or small they may seem. Here, they are never small.

NJ Autism Warriors

About Us

NJAW is POAC's online support group and a great source of information and community outings for your children with autism, and there is so much more.

Find Us on Facebook

Go to www.poac.net/resources. and click on the Resources tab. We are a closed Facebook group open only to parents of children (of any age) with autism. Click on the link and request to join.

The Online Support Group for POAC Autism Services

Welcome to the NJ Autism Warriors!

Need Support?

When you are a member of the NJAW, you have access to thousands of other parents throughout New Jersey through our closed Facebook group. Feel free to discuss challenges, celebrate achievements, or ask a question any time of the day or night.

"Before I found this group, I didn't know where to turn. Since then, not only have I found the help and support I need, but my children are also finding new friends and acceptance in so many ways. Thank you!"

A Closed Facebook Group for parents of individuals with autism.

POAC and NJAW

NJAW is part of the POAC autism family. In addition to POAC's free training and recreational events, we offer 24/7 online support in the group, and most importantly, a connection with other families sharing the journey.

Want to Find Fun Activities for Your Child with Autism?

NJAW runs lots of recreational events throughout the entire year. We go everywhere from zoos, to museums, to amusement parks, and so much more. We enjoy group rates at most of our outings and the comfort of knowing your child and family are accepted.

The POAC Autism Family

Making a difference in the lives of children is at the heart of everything we do at POAC. For the thousands of children with autism who benefit from our services and programs every year, POAC is making lives better every day.
